Log Cabins

Vacation Cabins at Myakka River State Park

The men of the Civilian Conservation Corps built these historic log cabins in the 1930s with the trunks of cabbage palms and chinked them with tar and sawdust. Cabins are located in a wooded area that often floods during the summer months. Please keep premises clean throughout your stay to help discourage pests (ants, roaches, mice, raccoons, etc.) in this wilderness setting. You may want to bring firewood as each cabin has a fireplace.

These rustic cabins don't have the amenities of a modern resort but a few conveniences have been added over the years. Cabins now include a small air conditioner/heater, an electric stove, microwave oven, refrigerator, and a bathroom with shower. They are furnished with two double beds, a sofa bed and a dining table with chairs. Linens and kitchen utensils are provided.

Cabin 1 has been modified to better accommodate persons with limited mobility. Be sure to state your preferences when making reservations if you require these accommodations.
